

A watercolor illustration of greenery and yellow flowers, positioned on the right side of the page. The illustration features various shades of green leaves and stems, along with several yellow flowers in different stages of bloom, some fully open and some as buds. The style is soft and painterly, with visible brushstrokes and a gentle color palette.

FALL INTO FLOWERS

EVENTS WEDDINGS FLORAL DESIGN

Winter Brochure

2023

The winter season is full of magic - which means weddings this season always offer an extra sparkle.

From all-white winter wonderlands to festive Christmas set-ups, it truly is a twinkling time. Some of the most beautiful blooms continue to grow in winter months, such as snowdrops, winter honeysuckle and, of course, traditional pansies.

Winter extends to the early months of the year too, with new beginnings in January, all the way through to February: the month of love!

Kirsty x

WINTER FLOWERS

Winter wedding festivities boast a real plethora of different tones and hues. From snow whites and classic blues to traditional reds and forest greens, the season does not disappoint.

Readily available blooms include:

Anemone • Camellia • Carnation • Cyclamen •
Eucalyptus • Fern • Goat Willow • Gypsophila •
Heather • Hellebore • Holly • Ivy • Mistletoe •
Narcissus • Pampas Grass • Pansies • Ranunculus •
Rose • Silver Brunia • Snowberry • Snowdrop •
Waxflower • Winter Blossom

You also have the option of winter foliage, branches and berries such as:

Acorns • Bay • Brachyglottis • Conifer • Cotoneaster •
Dogwood • Garrya • Pinecones • Pittosporum • Silver
Brunia Berries • Sprigs • Viburnum Berries

Spray Rose

Pinecone

Freesia

Christmas Foliage

Lisianthus

Wax Flower

This snowy white bouquet is the perfect epitome of the winter season. Made up of luscious green Christmas foliage and ivory white freesia, the arrangement also offers a pop of colour with forest green ribbon and a sprinkling of pinecones. The best bit? Spray roses represent romantic love.

Astilbe

Wax Flower

Protea

Thistle

Cymbidium Orchid

Roses

Beaded Eucalyptus

This floral arrangement incorporates the red wine hues of protea with ivory roses and wax flowers - a complementary combination of winter colours. The deep red astilbe flower brings the symbolisation of dedication to a loved one to the bouquet, with the beaded eucalyptus foliage representing strength and protection.

THANK YOU

we look forward to flowering for you!